

PRODUCT PERFORMANCE WARRANTY

Terraco products are formulated and manufactured to meet specific performance criteria under varying climatic conditions. Tried and tested for more than 30 years, Terraco products are known to outlast the product performance warranty period.

Due to the extensive range of finishing materials offered by Terraco, and the different regions of the world Terraco is found today, different types of products carry different warranty periods.

For detailed information relating to the Product Performance Warranty in your country, please contact the Terraco consultant closest to you.